Maroon Log

presented by the senior class of frankfort central school frankfort,
new york.

FOREWORD

As we look out into the world, we see many new hopes and new dreams. We realize that soon we are to leave Frankfort Central School. Our school means a lot of different things to a lot of different people. It's primarily a school of learning. English, shop, math, commerce, history and science are only a few of the variety of courses to arouse the interest of each individual student.

But that isn't all school is teaching us. Responsibility, initiative, and private thinking are encouraged through discussions and participation in extra-curricular activities to fit us as young adults in a world in which communism and democracy are each striving for domination.

Frankfort Central is indeed one of laughter and learning. But now let us turn the pages and see who makes up the classes, faculty, and activities.

dedication

MR. JOHN F. MURPHY

With heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for his untiring efforts, we, the Class of 1957, dedicate this yearbook to our new superintendent, Mr. John F. Murphy.

You have devoted your time, energy, experience, and skill to cope with the problems of this new centralized school. The basis for a smooth running school program must include careful and strategic planning. Hours of study precede many of the wise decisions our superintendent makes that result in opportunities for a better education for the students of Frankfort.

This is just a small token to show our deep appreciation.

A circular collage of black and white photographs depicting various school activities. The photos are arranged in a circular pattern, overlapping each other. The background of the collage features large, stylized Roman numerals (I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, XI, XII) arranged in a circular fashion. The photographs show students in various settings: some are in classrooms, some are in sports uniforms, some are in social gatherings, and some are in academic settings. The overall theme is a year-round record of school life.

Personal Diary
Class of 1957
Frankfort-Schuyler Central School

Dear Diary,

Being in a reminiscent mood, I will turn back the pages of this diary to bring back the pages of this diary to bring back the pleasant memories of our freshman year. Under the direction of our class officers: Francine Aiello, President; Lee Caruso, Vice-President; Jim Lore, Secretary; John Spina, Treasurer; we became the first class to react our eighth grade graduation exercises. To increase our knowledge, "although we really didn't need it," we went to the Stanley Theater to see the KNIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE with Miss Perritano and Miss Frank. We embarked on our money-making career under the direction of Mrs. Castronovo and Mrs. Reina by highlighting our freshman year with the most successful dance of the year--Our Hobo Dance. The class was represented at May Day festivities by Sharon Bates and JoAnn Loiacano.

As I turn the pages to my sophomore year, I find as class officers: President, Joe Chippari; Vice-President, Rosalie Spohn; Secretary, Sharon Bates; and Treasurer, Joe Belmont. Our advisors were Miss Braidwood, Art Teacher; and Mr. Monohan, Science Teacher. Through the capable cheering ability of Mayme Cushman and Francine Aiello, Varsity Cheerleaders; the football team, including many members of the sophomore class, won the midstate championship. Honor was bestowed upon our class with the selection of the following to the National Honor Society, the first chapter in Frankfort Central: Fran Palumbo, Fran Aiello, Jane Knox, Elaine Zwanka, Marie Nedsynski, and Joe Belmont. May attendants were the Crossett twins. At the end of the year we witnessed the departure of our classmate, Sally Durant, who enrolled in a private girls' school.

As joyful juniors, we received (Oh!! Great day in the morning!) OUR CLASS RINGS. We made a tremendous profit selling Christmas wreaths and holly under the supervision of Miss Perritano and Mrs. Senif. Singing in the Sextet were Theresa Hugick and Frances Palumbo, and cheering their teams to victory were Mayme Cushman, Francine Aiello, Josie Caiola, and Kate Trippen as Varsity, and Frances Palumbo and JoAnn as Junior Varsity. Finally the long-awaited prom - and if everyone didn't feel as if they were at the mardi gras - it wasn't the fault of the theme. Class officers were: Jim Lore, President; Joe Chippari, Vice-President; Ron Gatto, Secretary; and John Riente, Treasurer. Joe Belmont, Bill Williams, and John Riente were selected for BOYS' STATE while Sharon Bates represented Frankfort at GIRLS' STATE. Rounding up the school year activities, Monica Hatton and Sharon Bates were selected as May Day attendants, and Jim Lore gave his "Notorious" response on Class Night.

At last! Sophisticated Seniors!! Frances Palumbo became President of the class with Joe Belmont, Vice-President; Mary Lou Loiacono, Secretary; and Monica Hatton, Treasurer. Still trying to earn money, we sold Christmas cards. Under Mrs. Graves, the work of this year book began. Starting the year off with a kick, Jim Lore became Captain of the football team, and John Riente, Co-Captain. Other senior players were Paul Palumbo, Ron Gatto, and Peter Manno. The old rah, rah of cheerleading was led by Theresa Hugick, Katherine Trippen, and Angie Tocco as Varsity. The leaders of the Student Council, selected by the faculty, were: President, John Riente; Vice-President, Francine Aiello; and Secretary-Treasurer, Frances Palumbo. Singing in the sextet were Theresa Hugick, Angie Tocco, Frances Palumbo and Mayme Cushman. After the activities of Class Day, Class Night, Senior Play, May Day, and Graduation, the Class of 1957 left the halls of F.C.S. to find a new and better life, but they have always cherished the memories of our alma mater.

class will

Fran Aiello leaves one ice cube to Roy Swiger in hopes that he is more successful in cooling his temper.

Sharon Bates leaves her quiet and sincere disposition to Lonell Hakes.

Joe Belmont leaves to Mike Mazzola and Joe Christiano the title "Model school boy." (Do you think they deserve it?)

Josephine Caiola leaves to Phil Chuff her ability to get into other people's affairs successfully.

Rosalie Campulugo leaves her ability to conquer French to Jim Hocking.

Lee Caruso leaves his QUIET MANNER, while in school, to William Van Nort and David Jeffalone.

Joe Castellano leaves his athletic ability to Carl Corriggio and Dick Krick. (If you can do as well!)

Marie Cattat leaves her "be-oo-ti-ful sweeping" eyelashes to Mary Dempsey. (Monroe won't have a thing on you, Mary!)

Joe Chippari leaves to Mike Sciortino and Peter Valent a place by the school to park their "hot rods."

James Christensen leaves his red hair to Don Bristol.

Elaine Crim leaves her desk in the mechanical drawing room to Brian Bunce -- Hope you will use it in the future.

Barbara and Bessie Crossett leave their place as twins in the Senior Class to Joan and Joanne Hall.

Mayme Cushman bequeaths her Elvis Presley guitar to Al Henrickson.

Catherine DeCarr bequeaths to Mike Kravec the co-operating spirit which she has always willingly expressed.

Earl DeLuke leaves to John Lollo a miniature pool table complete with chalk and cues. Maybe this will eliminate the daily walk downtown.

Connie Dodge leaves the title of "Senior Artist" to Carolyn Baldwin.

Ronnie Gatto leaves his "Popeye strength" to George Luther. (A can of spinach a day is the trick.)

Carol Giffune leaves to Joanne Spohn her hilarious giggle so that she can amuse the Senior Class of 1958.

Dorothy Hajdasz leaves to Philomena Ortello and Rachel Zaffarano her "I'll Take Life as It Comes" attitude.

Homer Haman bequeaths to Billy Abrams a fire cracker to wake him up.

Theresa Rubino leaves an ounce of quietness to John Latella -- Please Use It.

Phyllis Sanders leaves her simple and sweet attitude to that light-hearted kid, Margaret Mack.

Eleanor Schmidt leaves her quietness and shyness to De Anne Boudry.

Beverly Harmon leaves her seat on the bus to Leonard Cavanaugh.

Monica Hatton bequeaths her ability to make money for the Senior Class to Joanne Onofaro.

Eleanor Hughes bequeaths her "gift of gab" to a loquacious girl, Rita Castellano.

Theresa Hugick bequeaths her scientific ability to Joanne Henrickson.

Jim Juliano leaves to Joe Digristina his agricultural interests and F.F.A. prominence.

Jane Knox leaves to Doreen Graves and Rita Juteau two megaphones so that Mrs. Graves will be able to hear them in class.

Joanne Loiacano wills her "come hither look" to Diane Cress.

Jim Lore leaves George Feduccia and Ed Lints his ability to talk uninterrupted throughout his classes.

Peter Manno gives to Wayne Kusienski and Henry Kinney the telephone number of his favorite hair dresser. (Machineless waves are the rage now.)

Carol Matteson leaves to Catherine App her ability to get along with teachers.

Marie Nedzynski leaves her scholarly intellect to Carol Favat and Evelyn Bristol.

Mamie Nicastro leaves her vim, vigor, and vitality to David Russell.

Frances Palumbo bequeaths her natural curly hair to Joan Murphy and Cecelia Gillette.

Paul Palumbo has decided to give lessons to Anthony LaMonica and Henry Sharo, on how to become acquainted with girls. (You're too bashful, boys!)

Joanne Paratore leaves Paul Puleo.

Rosemary Paratore leaves one ton of used gum to Carol Catlin and Sandra Fresco if they wish to experiment in synthetic rubber manufacture.

Marilyn Passante leaves the title of Shorty to Phyl Sgroi.

John Riente leaves those two promising stars of football, Howard Charbonneau and Ray Krick, the honor of carrying the gridiron tradition of the Maroon and White.

Sandra Robellard leaves her place in front of the mirror in the girls' room to Sharon Lee and Carol Parkola.

Alan Rosbrook leaves a few inches to Stanley Wolanski.

Ronald Sinard leaves to John Tucker a new book of excuses for absence, tardiness, and unpreparedness.

Vincent Sgroi leaves to Joe Loiacano and Dick Farrell the role of a man in the fog, too much to do, and no time to do it in -- besides I feel terrible.

Joe Spatol leaves to those ever-thumbng juniors, Jim Barnett and Tom Maneen, a pair of skates in case their thumbs wear out.

John Spina wills his QUITE BECOMING "curly hair" to George Sylvester. (Just think - no more curlers!)

Rosalie Spohn leaves her seat in secretarial class to Lorraine Jones and Cinda Valente.

Nancy Sylvester leaves her well-groomed appearance and pleasant smile to Georgianna Dee and Verna Favat.

Angie Tocco gives to Frank LaPuma talent of being the No. 1 Jitterbug of F.C.S. Here's hoping you succeed.

Kate Trippen bequeaths a book entitled "How to Gain Weight in Ten Easy Lessons" to Nancy Callahan.

Elaine Zwanka leaves to Jeanette Rappa the honor of towering over the senior girls.

Mary Lou Loiacono leaves her charming personality to Barbara Ames.

We, the Senior Class, reluctantly but of necessity, bequeath to the unpredictable Juniors, our Senior prerogatives and dignity as well as our wisdom and foresight.

To Mrs. Graves the members of the Senior Class give, free from all inheritance, luxury, or income tax, our complete store of knowledge. From her it came, to her it is returned. Each senior contributes one ounce of patience to cope with the Class of '58. Best of luck always.

To the faculty we bequeath a box of embroidered handkerchiefs to dry their tears when the beloved Senior Class of '57 make their exit.

class prophecy

Time: A lovely day in June, 1967

Place: Frankfort, New York

Who would think that I would be walking along this same Main Street ten years from the time I was graduated from High School! As my husband and I were strolling by all the familiar places we see coming toward us the prominent engineer, Joseph M. Belmont, and his Board of Directors, Lee Caruso and Homer Haman, his former fishing partners.

We say goodbye to the three men and find ourselves in front of a huge grocery store, which has painted above the door, "Spatol's Low Cost, High Quality Grocery." Inside we find Mrs. Paul Palumbo, the former Mayme Cushman, doing her weekly shopping. As we look to the right, we see Paul Palumbo, engineer, with a beautiful tan received while building a new canal to replace the Suez. Rosalie Campulugo, a famous dietician is arguing with the butcher about quivering liver. Rosalie informs us that Rosalie Spohn and Angie Tocco are secretaries for the owner of Castellano's Sporting Goods Company.

Outside again, we decide to to to Accattato's. It's been a long time since either of us has been there. Behind the fountain whom do you suppose we found jerking up a soda? None other than Junior De Luke. But, look, who is to receive that luscious concoction? Sharon Bates is. She is home for a few days after having won the bathing beauty cup at Atlantic City. She tells us that Eleanor Hughes, a medical secretary, has wedding bells rather than penicillin on her mind. Her boss, the eminent Dr. Sinard, cannot concentrate either. Wonder why? Just then, who should come running in but Nan Sylvester. She is very much excited and asks Junior to turn on the radio for it's time for the broadcast of the Dodger baseball game with John Spina pitching. After the broadcast, Nan tells us that she and Marie Cattat are part-owners of the "Two Musketeers Business School," famous throughout the valley.

We then decide to visit the high school, which we understand has been improved more since we left. On our way past the Hollywood Theater a large advertisement of the coming attractions catches my eye. The faces of the two women are very familiar and when I read the caption I knew why. One is that famous actress and current idol of the screen, Carol "Greta" Giffune. Mary Lou Loiacono, the beautiful blonde from Bashful Bend, is now playing Betty Grable's role as a temperamental trigger-happy entertainer of the Old West.

Around the corner we see a large crowd gathering for the Crossett twin's double wedding ceremony. Among the spectators there stands out two blue WAVE uniforms belonging to Dot Hajdasz and Elaine Crim home on leave. Also leading the choir for this wedding is the famous organist, Josephine Caiola. She has just made her debut at Carnegie Hall.

Anxious to see the school once again, we hurry on our way. Now we find ourselves going up the walk of that familiar building that held so many of us together for four long years. Inside the school we go upstairs to the principal's office. Whom do you suppose we find sitting behind the desk? John Rientel! He explains that he wanted to see how it felt to be on the right side of things, so he accepted the position as principal. He says that we will probably want to meet some of his new faculty members. First, he leads us to the history department where we find Jane Knox. Taking a few minutes from class, she tells us that Mayme Nicastro and Alan Rosbrook are now head of the girls' and boys' athletic department.

In the commercial department Frances Palumbo is explaining the process of duplication. She informs us that Jim Juliano is a successful agricultural leader of Central New York. She also tells us that Joanne Paratore is the wife of a prosperous farmer.

In the office again we find Katherine Trippen checking out the tardy excuses as usual. Katherine is now sending out college applications to Marie Nedzynski, Dean of Women at Vassar College. She informs us that Theresa Hugick and Carol Matteson are nurses at Hugick's Memorial Hospital and have just performed a delicate brain surgery on Peter Manno, one of television's leading comedians.

Now down to Sgroi's Newsstand we glance at the headlines on the sports page. Ron Gatto, the captain of Army's football team, has given Jim "Moose" Lore an award for the best defensive player of the year. Fast-moving Ro Paratore has just started the first girls' football team. Glancing at the SATURDAY EVENING POST we see the cleverly-designed cover created by Connie Dodge, head of the art staff. Flipping the pages through SEVENTEEN, we see the announcement of the opening of Hatton's Fashion Parade featuring three of America's highest paid models, Joanne Loiacano, Sandie Robellard and Elaine Zwanka. The fashions will be reviewed by that exclusive buyer of women's apparel, Miss Beverly Harmon.

As we stop at the post office to mail a letter to Theresa Rubino, now teaching at Oswego State, we encounter Jim Christensen, postmaster. As we glance at the posters we see a "wanted" sign for that AWOL soldier, Joe Chippari. I happen to meet Cathy DeCarr and Ann Brownrigg, two prominent homemakers who hold positions at Cornell and Morrisville. Cathy tells us that Marilyn Passante has won the contest as "Miss Shorty of 1967." Ann says that Eleanor Schmidt is now secretary to that great scientiest, Phyllis Sanders.

In ten years' time that great class of 1957 has really come a long way. They have accomplished great things and I know they will be long remembered.

As for the author, she will no doubt return to her duties as a housewife and private secretary at B & R Trucking Company.

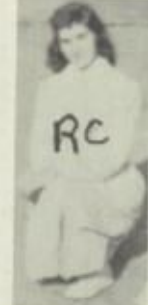

Sincerely yours,

Francine Aiello

student council

The Student Council is the governing body for the students of Frankfort Central School. The three officers, president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer are members of the senior class. Home rooms are represented by the election of two members, whose duties are to report and inform their home-rooms rules and decisions of the Council. Acting as hall monitors and sponsoring programs are a few of their activities. To promote good will with other schools, the Council sends its members to valley schools in order to exchange opinions.

national honor society

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in students of Frankfort Central School. Candidates eligible to election, which includes members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes, must show the above qualifications, maintain an average of 88% and must spend a year at FCS.

The Maroon Bugle is the official school paper. The editor and assistant editor are selected by the advisors. Membership in the Bugle is voluntary. Each staff member must contribute one article a month, whether it is printed or not. The main purpose of this paper is to get the school news to the students and to their parents. As a member of the NYSSPA, it won an All-New York State Rating in 1956.

future teachers of america

F.T.A. encourages young people to cultivate in themselves the qualities of personality and character which are the foundations of successful teaching. If one is interested in the F.T.A., this group will furnish specific information about opportunities in the various fields of education. Members remain active in this interest by observing and practicing classroom techniques.

future homemakers of america

Girls who are studying or taking courses in home economics are eligible to become members of F.H.A. This club is affiliated with the state and national organizations of Future Homemakers. The purpose of this club is to encourage democracy in home and community life, work for good home and family life for all, and to promote international good will. The club's color is white; the flower is a red rose; the motto is "Forward New Horizons."

future farmers of america

This is a national organization to aid in the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. National awards are given for outstanding accomplishments by the F.F.A. members. Each boy wears an F.F.A. jacket with the symbol.

The Latin Club supplements the work done throughout the year in the Latin classes. The members play Roman games, present plays and skits, and learn Roman customs and traditions. Socials and bake sales are held throughout the year to enable the club to hold a Latin Banquet every three years.

LIBRARY staff

The purpose of this club is to learn library techniques and to assist the librarian in all phases of her work.

math club

The purpose of the Math Club is practical application of math in every day experiences. Their aims are to learn about the historical background of math, carry on experiments, such as outdoor measurement, and to discuss current publications concerning math.

science club

One of the purposes of the Science Club is to interest people in the preparation of projects for the Science Congress, in order to gain personal satisfaction and at the same time give credit to the school. Another purpose is to maintain and increase interest in science and to handle scientific equipment and apparatus. At each meeting there is a planned program, usually demonstrations of experiments in the line of science.

commercial club

This group is comprised of any student taking commercial subjects. The aim of the club is to enrich the background of its members and to provide mutual and social contacts in the business world.

dramatic club

The aim of the Dramatic Club is, within a very limited scope, to give the membership an idea of public speaking, simple dramatic situations, and the projection of characterizations. An attempt is also made to do something with the art of make-up.

ART CLUB

The Art Club is to assist in school projects, poster campaigns and to do general projects for the benefit of the school and the community.

airplane club

The purpose of the Airplane Club is to pool interest and information in the construction and flight of model airplanes. Members make individual models which they bring to every meeting for testing and evaluation. It is their wish to have at some of their meetings people interested in the field of aviation to give them technical information on our modern aeronautical field.

glee club

Membership to the Glee Club is open to anyone interested in singing. One half credit a year can be earned if one has perfect attendance in classes and activities. The purpose of this club is to increase students' musical repertoire and to develop a feeling for three-part music. The club participates at festivals, Christmas and spring concerts.

Band

We believe that in these modern times the band is just as much a part of the school curriculum as citizenship education, the arts and sciences.

Health, both physical and mental, is fostered in band. Proper posture, both standing and sitting, must be maintained in order to play well. Music stimulates the respiratory and muscular system, developing strong lungs and nimble fingers. Hearing is also made keener by constant listening for details.

Music may become a vocation for some and an avocation for many others. What better place to receive the preliminary and intermediate groundwork than in school? There are many musical organizations outside of school that are not professional, but made up of graduates that use music as a pastime, both for mere enjoyment, or as many do, couple their enjoyment with monetary returns such as marching, concert and dance bands.

A musical organization such as a band fosters and helps build ethical character. In a band there must be a discipline that demands industry, punctuality, and integrity from every member.

Good Luck to great kid.

Band

Each individual is responsible for the success of the group, thereby stressing cooperation, respect for authority and self-reliance, especially in solo parts. Leadership of players in first chair positions is also fostered, thereby teaching the hearing of responsibility that goes along with leadership.

All in all, we can see that music, through striving constantly for fine performances, develops a keen sense of accomplishment and values. A broader concept of living, and a possible means of earning a livelihood by either being a sole vocation or a supplementary one, fits in perfectly with the over-all educational objectives of our school -- the preparation for life.

Frankfort Tops Richfield In Season's Finale, 26-6

RICHFIELD SPRINGS- Frankfort Central School ran and passed almost at will against Richfield Springs yesterday afternoon to close its season with a convincing 26-0 win.

Playing under a new coach Joseph Campo, the Maroon and White closed out a successful 51 season, losing only to Canis Joharie during the campaign.

Frankfort wasted no time as it hit paydirt twice within the first few minutes of play. So Warner recovered a fumble by Klen on the opening kickoff and John Riente, on a crossback scampered from the Richfield 26-yard line for the first Frankfort score.

Richfield could not move on the next series of plays and punted. On the first play after the kick, Paul Palumbo, hard-hitting Frankfort ball carrier, on a quick opener, ran 52 yards through the whole Richfield team for the second Frankfort score. Ed Lints passed to Bristol for the point after touchdown to make it 13-0.

Richfield, having played in its own territory the entire first half, managed to move in the third period as it recovered a Frankfort fumble on the Richfield 38-yard line.

In the closing second of the game, Sauquoit filled the air with passes in a determined effort to score but Frankfort's Joe Cammarratta intercepted one of these passes and scampered for another Frankfort touchdown.

A pair of fast breaking sticky fingered ends led Frankfort Central School 28-6 victory over New Mills at the Rhoads Ho Field yesterday afternoon before a crowd of about 300.

Carl Carrelggio and Don Tol each were on the receiving end of two touchdowns from Ed Linnis, the Frankfort quarterback. Ron Gatte and George Luther also stood for the winners with their stant ground raining.

After Frankfort held Millers in the opening minutes of the game forcing the kick with Gatte returning punt to the New York Mill Lintz then proceeded to the leather to the 23 from where he hit Carreiggi in the zone with a pass for the Frankfort score. Paul Pal bucked over for the extra and Frankfort led 7-0.

Carreiggio set up the Maroon and White tally blocked Leo Markowski's and raced to the Miller yard marker before he touched out of bounds. On second play from scrimmage Lints found Bistol in the zone with waiting arms and Maroon Knights from the hawk Valley, led 13-0. sliced his way through the die of the Miller forward w make Frankfort-Schuyler Central's Maroon Knights, selected for fourth place, surprised Mohawk Valley experts by finishing the season in a three-way tie for first place, under the successful reins of their new coach, Joseph Campo. First place honors vied with Frankfort, Dolgeville, and Canajoharie were earned by Frankfort's hard-hitting eleven.

Frankfort began its season by trouncing Sauquoit 32-12. The Maroon Knights, encouraged by George Luther's two touchdowns, had little trouble in their first league game. New York Mills then fell victim to Ed Lints' accurate-passing arm in losing to Frankfort 26-6.

A highly inspired Canajoharie team ended Frankfort's winning streak at two games by defeating the Frankfort eleven 6-0. Frankfort climbed to second place by defeating Holland Patent 13-0. The greatest upset of the year was the defeat of Dolgeville 6-0. Richfield Springs succumbed to Frankfort 28-6, mainly through the efforts of those hard-running backfields, Paul Palumbo, John Riente and Ronnie Gatto, all scoring touchdowns.

Although Frankfort is losing five seniors, James Lore, Paul Palumbo, Ronnie Gatto, Pete Manno and John Riente, it hopes to have another successful year in '57 with the return of Butch Luther, Ed Lints, Carl Correggio, Howie Charbonneau, and Roy Swiger.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Although the Maroon Cagers can show only a 3-7 record, the future looks optimistic with the fine showing against league leaders, Fort Plain and Canajoharie. Though the Maroon Knights are losing three players, P. Palumbo, J. Spina, and J. Riente by way of graduation, next year's team looks bright with veterans C. Correggio, E. Lints, and J. Evola.

Any boy interested in sports may become a member of this club. The main purpose of the Sports Club is to teach and foster sportsmanship in the field as well as in the school. The club promotes such activities as rifle meets, stocking of streams, and pheasant feeds.

G.a.a.

The purpose of this club is to cultivate interest in participation in athletics. Its program includes soccer, speedaway, volleyball, bowling, softball, tennis, and recreational games. To earn credit toward an award, a girl must take part in the intramurals after school.

Baseball

The 1956 Baseball Team turned in a creditable season winning eight games and losing six. Prospects for the 1957 season are bright with a large group of returning experienced players. Prominent in the group are the following members of the class of 1957: John Spina, John Riente, Paul Palumbo and Ronnie Gatto.
